may crown his efforts, and that many souls may be brought into the fold thru his ministration of the Word.

The name of brother J. C. Cassel, Philadelphia, Pa., is familiar to the entire brotherhood by reason of his close relation with the several departments of our church work, especially with that of missions and the publishing interests. From the first he has been a member of the Brethren Publication Board, serving both as treasurer and secretary of the Board. In this capacity his service has been very valuable to the Board, and thru it, to the church. He is also secretary of the National Mission Board, and probably it would not be too much to say that he is the champion of our missionary enterprises. But while the name of Brother Cassel is familiarly known among our readers, not all have been permitted to see him and form his personal acquaintance. We regret that we cannot introduce him to the brotherhood that his many friends might have the opportunity for congratulations on the successful canvass which has just come to a close, but we take pleasure in doing the next most satisfactory thing, introduce the readers to his portrait which appears on page 14. It is only just to say that Brother Cassel does not crave popularity, nor even publicity, and it was only at our earnest request that he consented to permit his portrait to appear as it does in this number of the EVANGELIST. Let each one imagine that he thus becomes personally acquainted with our brother, and if ever it should be your good fortune to meet him you will recognize him, and we need not say that you will meet a Christian gentleman, a most active and earnest worker for the Lord. May the kind Father in heaven continue to bless him and his work and at last bring him to his reward. We also give a portrait of Brother Lyon, the pastor of the Washington City Mission, who has kept the work and the needs of the mission constantly and persistently before the people, and deserves no little credit for the success which has crowned the effort to secure a church home for the little class in the capital city. It would have afforded us much pleasure to have given in connection with these portraits brief biographies of both Brother Cassel and Brother Lyon, but the time was too short. We trust that April 8 may prove a day of rejoicing and gladness in the Lord thru-out the entire brotherhood.

J. C. Cassel, who was in charge of the canvass for the Washington City Church.
